Strength
and Courage to Build our Foundation for the Future

From the Chairman and the President

Thank you for taking the time to review the 2009 Mount Scopus College Foundation Annual Report.

SOLOMON LEW
CHAIRMAN

HENRY LANZER
PRESIDENT

As anticipated, the last twelve months have been most challenging with the plans of individuals, businesses and organisations around the world having been adversely affected by the global financial crisis.

For the College, the influence of the economic downturn was exacerbated by the rise of costs in education together with significant teacher salary increases necessitating larger than usual fee increases. You may remember that, as a result, extensive redevelopment plans were put on hold.

The Foundation then turned its focus to 'keeping kids at Scopus' by seeking the ability to minimise the fee increase and to fund more bursaries. A projected rise of nearly 15% was able to be reduced to 9.75% and more families had their burden eased by receiving subsidised school fees.

This was achieved with the outstanding generosity of some of the College's major benefactors, to whom we say a warm and sincere 'toda raba'.

However, since that time, the College has gratefully been the beneficiary of federal government stimulus funding for new primary schools at Gandel Besen House and the Gandel Campus. As a result, the College has created a Stage 1 of each of these exciting projects, for which the government will provide one quarter of their cost.

Appreciating that these are generational projects for Scopus, the Foundation Executive has endorsed these developments with the understanding that their completion will require immediate Foundation support.

Over the course of the year, despite an ailing economy, fundraising has continued and we have truly appreciated both new support, that of members who have met their commitments and those who have made new gifts. Thank you.

We also recognise the involvement and assistance of our Executive and express our sincere gratitude to Vice-Presidents Sam Alter and Stewart Baron together with Paul Bassat, Joey Borensztajn, Russell Casper, Jack Hansky, Michael Slonim, Roy Tashi and Executive Director, Marilyn Simon.

Similarly, we acknowledge the immense commitment, enthusiasm and co-operation of Principal, Rabbi James Kennard, and all staff together with College President, Lisa Kennett, the College Executive and Councilors.

This year we were saddened by the passing of many longtime Foundation supporters. Our thoughts are with all their families and we especially note the loss of Life Trustee, Richard Pratt and Trustee, Victor Smorgon for our community, the wider Australian society and for Israel.

2010 will be an exciting year as we watch buildings quickly take shape and reveal a new era for Scopus. We know we can count on you to provide the support it needs to provide a quality education in contemporary facilities for future generations.

Your support not only affects their environment but, more importantly, the number of children who will be fortunate enough to have this experience. Together, we will provide the "Strength and Courage to Build our Foundation for the Future".

A new era for Scopus

LIMITED DEDICATION OPPORTUNITIES

If you wish to learn more or to become involved with any of these new facilities, please call Marilyn Simon, Foundation Executive Director on 9834 0124 or email msimon@scopus.vic.edu.au as soon as possible. New, although limited, dedication opportunities present wonderful possibilities for honouring your family.

Behind the designs of award-winning, specialist educational architects Hayball Leonard Stent, are the values of the College's mission statement and the ideals of the International Baccalaureate Organisation's Primary Years Programme.

The College is proceeding with new primary schools at Gandel Besen House and the Gandel Campus as a result of federal government funding and with the understanding that their completion will require Foundation support. In line with government requirements, these generational projects are to be completed for the start of the 2011 school year.

At Gandel Besen House the addition of a new two storey building will provide

- open, flexible and interactive learning spaces, facilitating multi-faceted learning environments for Prep to Year 3
- learning resource centre
- music and art rooms
- computer pods

At the Gandel Campus an entirely new upper primary school adjacent to the Besen Family Performing Arts Centre will feature

- flexible learning spaces, allowing classrooms to be used in a variety of ways for Years 4 to 6
- learning resource centre
- Year 6 'work, rest and play' zone combined with an informal Jewish education centre
- wireless access throughout

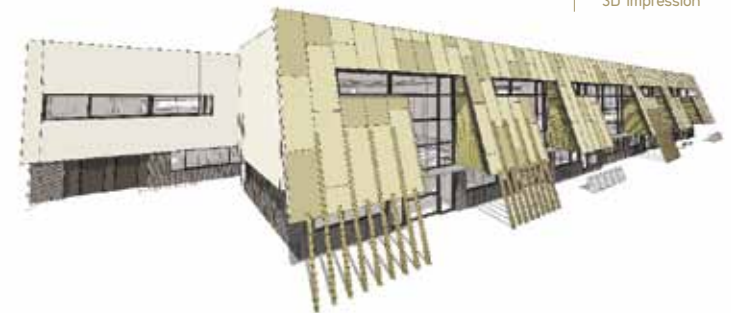

Both projects incorporate

- the use of recycled water, energy saving lights and air conditioning
- environmentally sustainable designs

From the Executive Director

In 2010 I will officially become a
Scopus grandmother.
It seems like only yesterday that I was introducing my daughter to kinder.

MARILYN SIMON
EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

I am sure this feeling is not uncommon. However, I believe that I am in a unique position having been intimately involved with the College for almost half of its existence. For 30 years I have had the privilege – as a parent, a volunteer, a board member or part of its ‘friend-raising’ staff – of being an ‘insider’ on a daily basis.

I witness how teaching and learning at Scopus evolves every day. We tend to take it all for granted until a visitor remarks on how they can feel the passion, the ruach (spirit) and the commitment of staff and students to living and learning. It is almost too hard to keep up with all the new programs and educational experiences on offer. Our growing enrolments serve to validate our progress and achievements.

And now, with some help from the government, we have the chance to create a physical environment truly equal to the quality of our educational and co-curricular programs – contemporary learning spaces and recreational areas that will reflect all that we are and plan to be.

What Scopus can offer is as a result of the efforts of the Foundation and the generosity of benefactors for which I thank you sincerely. Please consider being a tangible part of this new era – of Scopus going forward – by adding your support to our new campaign. Our two new primary school developments provide very attractive, yet limited, dedication opportunities. There will always be a way to match your area of interest with the school’s needs and I welcome your call on 9834 0124 to discuss yours.

I take this opportunity to express my gratitude, both personally and on behalf of the College, for the commitment, care and dedication of Solomon Lew, Henry Lanzer and each member of the Foundation Executive. I also express my appreciation to College President, Lisa Kennett, Principal, Rabbi James Kennard and the Council for their collaboration and encouragement. Thank you also to all my colleagues for your valuable assistance, enthusiasm and cooperation.

And so a new era for Scopus – and our family – begins. I look forward to having you join me on what will be an exciting journey with the “Strength and Courage to Build our Foundation for the Future”.

Leaving their Legacy

This year the College has been blessed by two Bequests.

This year the College has been blessed by two Bequests. The names of Aaron Arthur Smith and Alwyn Ruta Samuel will be appreciatively added to our Bequest Honour Board.

Mr Smith was an uncle of College grandparent, Thelma Meerkin. We also pay tribute to Thelma as we know her involvement in and passion for Scopus during her children's school days inspired her uncle's decision. We are indebted to her and her co-executor, Ted Rahill, for their management of the Estate which saw it grow significantly whilst under their care.

The direction for some of the proceeds from this substantial Bequest are Aaron Arthur Smith Bursaries which have been awarded to students in need of fee assistance.

We look forward to creating a permanent dedication in memory of Mr Smith, one that will truly honour the spirit and magnitude of his gift to the Scopus community. (Please read more in the December 09 edition of Kaleidoscope)

The College was also grateful to be the recipient of a Bequest from the Estate of Alwyn Ruta Samuel, who was the College's second President from 1953 – 1956.

We take this opportunity to publicly thank Morris Margolis and Henry Rubin who are the Trustees of the Julia Feitel Pearl Trust from which we receive a significant sum each year for the tuition fees of students in need.

Many enquiries are made by solicitors and accountants on behalf of clients who are including Scopus in their Will. Please consider informing us of your proposed legacy so we have the privilege of showing our appreciation during your lifetime. Sadly, we could not thank Arthur or Alwyn personally as we did not know of their intentions.

For further information, or to advise of your Bequest,
please call Marilyn Simon, Foundation
Executive Director, on (03) 9834 0124.

Our Bequest Honour Board acknowledges all the thoughtful people from whose Estate the College has benefited over the last decade and serves to remind us, on a daily basis, that their memory is indeed a blessing and an inspiration.

Leaving your Legacy

A Bequest in your Will is one of the simplest ways to leave your legacy and perhaps at a level not possible during your lifetime.

WILL YOUR BEQUEST MAKE A DIFFERENCE?

Most definitely. Every Bequest, large or small, will make a unique contribution to our students, the school, and ultimately, to our community.

HOW DO YOU MAKE A BEQUEST TO SCOPUS?

After considering the needs of your family, we encourage you to provide for our future by making Scopus a beneficiary of your Will. Adding a codicil to an existing Will may be an inexpensive option. We suggest you consult your solicitor or financial advisor or ask us for assistance.

WHAT FORM MAY YOUR BEQUEST TAKE?

- a specific sum of money
- a percentage of your Estate or the residue of your Estate
- a specific asset, such as property or shares
- articles of value, such as art work

HOW WILL YOUR BEQUEST BE USED?

- Unless you direct otherwise, your Bequest will be managed by the Mount Scopus College Foundation which provides for
- subsidised tuition fees for students who would otherwise be excluded
 - scholarships
 - additional programs
 - development of facilities or you may identify a specific purpose

SHOULD YOU TELL SCOPUS YOU ARE MAKING A BEQUEST?

By informing us, we can show our appreciation during your lifetime. However, this is personal choice.

We express our heartfelt appreciation to the people from whose Estate the College has benefited and to those who have recently included Mount Scopus College as a beneficiary in their Will.

If you are considering making Mount Scopus College a beneficiary of your Estate in any way, please call Marilyn Simon, Foundation Executive Director, who will welcome your enquiry and can provide the correct wording for insertion in your Will or perhaps suggest a solicitor

Mount Scopus Memorial College

WHY WAS THE MOUNT SCOPUS COLLEGE FOUNDATION ESTABLISHED?

It was created in 1987 to be responsible for major fundraising to advance the College. Through the generosity of its members, the Foundation has raised in excess of $35,000,000. Funds can be applied to capital works, endowment, fee subsidies, debt reduction and programs.

WHO CAN BE MEMBERS?

It is open to everyone – corporations, individuals and families. Classifications of membership are dependent on gift level. Entry level requires a pledge of $20,000 which may be paid over an agreed term.

HOW IS IT MANAGED?

The goals of the Foundation are pursued by an Executive Committee in close consultation with the Principal, College President and their Executive. The Chairman of the Foundation, since inception, is Solomon Lew and President, Henry Lanzer, was appointed in 1996. Marilyn Simon, the Executive Director, assumed the role in 1996.

IS YOUR DONATION TAX DEDUCTIBLE?

The Mount Scopus College Foundation, the Mount Scopus College Scholarship Fund and the Mount Scopus College School Building Fund are all tax deductible entities. Residents of the United States may give to Scopus and receive an IRS deduction by giving through the British Schools and Universities Foundation, Inc (BSUF).
